Top Ten reasons to come to synagogue on January 14 for our new

FAMILY SHABBAT SERVICE

10. Your children's friends will be there
9. The Cantor tells great stories!
8. The debut performance of the brand new Junior Choir!
7. Pizza bagels at Kiddush lunch
6. Services end by noon
5. Lots of participation and catchy new tunes
4. We'll set a record for most kids on the bimah leading Adon Olam
3. A relaxed service where your children will feel comfortable (and so will you!)
2. Tailored for families with kindergarten – bar/bat mitzvah age children

And the #1 reason.... “When you teach your child, you also teach your child's child — and so on to the end of generations.” - Talmud (Kiddushin)

Arrive by 10:30 a.m. to make sure you don't miss out!

And, save the date for upcoming 2012 Family Shabbat Services:

From the Rabbi's Desk

One of the most important tasks of the ancient Temple service was performed by the Kohen – a descendant from the family of Aaron (the brother of Moses). Together with the Levi (who assisted), the many rituals of our Torah concerning animal sacrifice and the like was presided over by the Kohen.

What about today, since there is no longer a Temple or animal sacrifice? A number of Conservative congregations still honor both the Kohen and the Levi by giving them the first and second (respectively) Aliyot over the Torah when it is read. In addition, when the Blessing of the Kohanim (“Duchanin”) is done, it is performed by the Kohanim in the congregation. Both of these practices have to do with the honour of the Kohen.

Another matter is the law concerning a Kohen in proximity to a corpse. In ancient times, when the Kohen performed the ritual of animal sacrifice, it was imperative that he maintained a state of ritual purity, and so he was not allowed to be involved in or in any way near the deceased, which would have made the Kohen ritually impure, and thus unfit for his primary role in the Temple.

Today, the Law Committee of our Conservative Movement has decreed that since there is no practical function for Kohanim today (i.e., there is no longer animal sacrifice), and since there is a great Mitzvah to honour the dead by being involved in their funeral and burial, we strongly encourage Kohanim to take part in the rituals. There is no longer any practical prohibition on a Kohen being in proximity to a corpse.

With this in mind, I urge all of the Kohanim in our congregation to take part in the funeral service and burial of those in our Jewish community. The Mitzvah of “Chesed Shel Emet”, acts of loving kindness for those who need such acts at the end of life, is one of our greatest Mitzvot.

NOTES FROM THE CANTOR

A NEW SECULAR YEAR

I am writing this article just 2 weeks before the start of another secular year though you will probably be reading it after the new year has begun. It is hard for me to contemplate that it has already been almost half a year since I relocated. I have met so many wonderful people who have gone out of their way and done so much to graciously welcome us, making our integration into this our new community so much smoother. So far the winter has been mercifully mild and perhaps the silver lining of Jan's still being in Arizona is that by the time she relocates, winter's worst might have passed us by.

I am preparing for a trip back West soon to see Jan and my dear mother, Miriam, who has just arrived in the States from South Africa and whom I have not seen in 2 years. While west I will be attending a Cantors conference in California as well as co-officiating in my nephew Asher's wedding. I look forward to reporting to all of you on our family's reunion and the conference.

I wish to highlight several important events and programs at CBI you should not miss – Our 1st Family Service January 14 will be an upbeat service in the sanctuary including, among other things, greater participation by our children.

Kugel, Klezmer and Karaoke January 28 will be “an amazing evening of food, fun and entertainment for all ages” an industrious committee is currently planning (see elsewhere for details).

Shabbat Shira - The Sabbath of Song February 4 when I will offer an innovative and inspirational musical program as befits the only shabbat of the year devoted entirely to song and music. This tradition is based on the Torah portion B'shalach which we always read on Shabbat Shira because it includes Shirat Hyam - The Song of The Crossing of The Sea which Moses and our People sang immediately after they reached safety on the other side of the Sea, having just been freed from 400 years of slavery and having escaped the pursuing Egyptians.

Purim and Purimspiel March 7-8 Anyone interested in participating in a fabulous spiel or reading the megillah please contact me at ilichterman@cbitoledo.org. Rehearsals will begin soon.

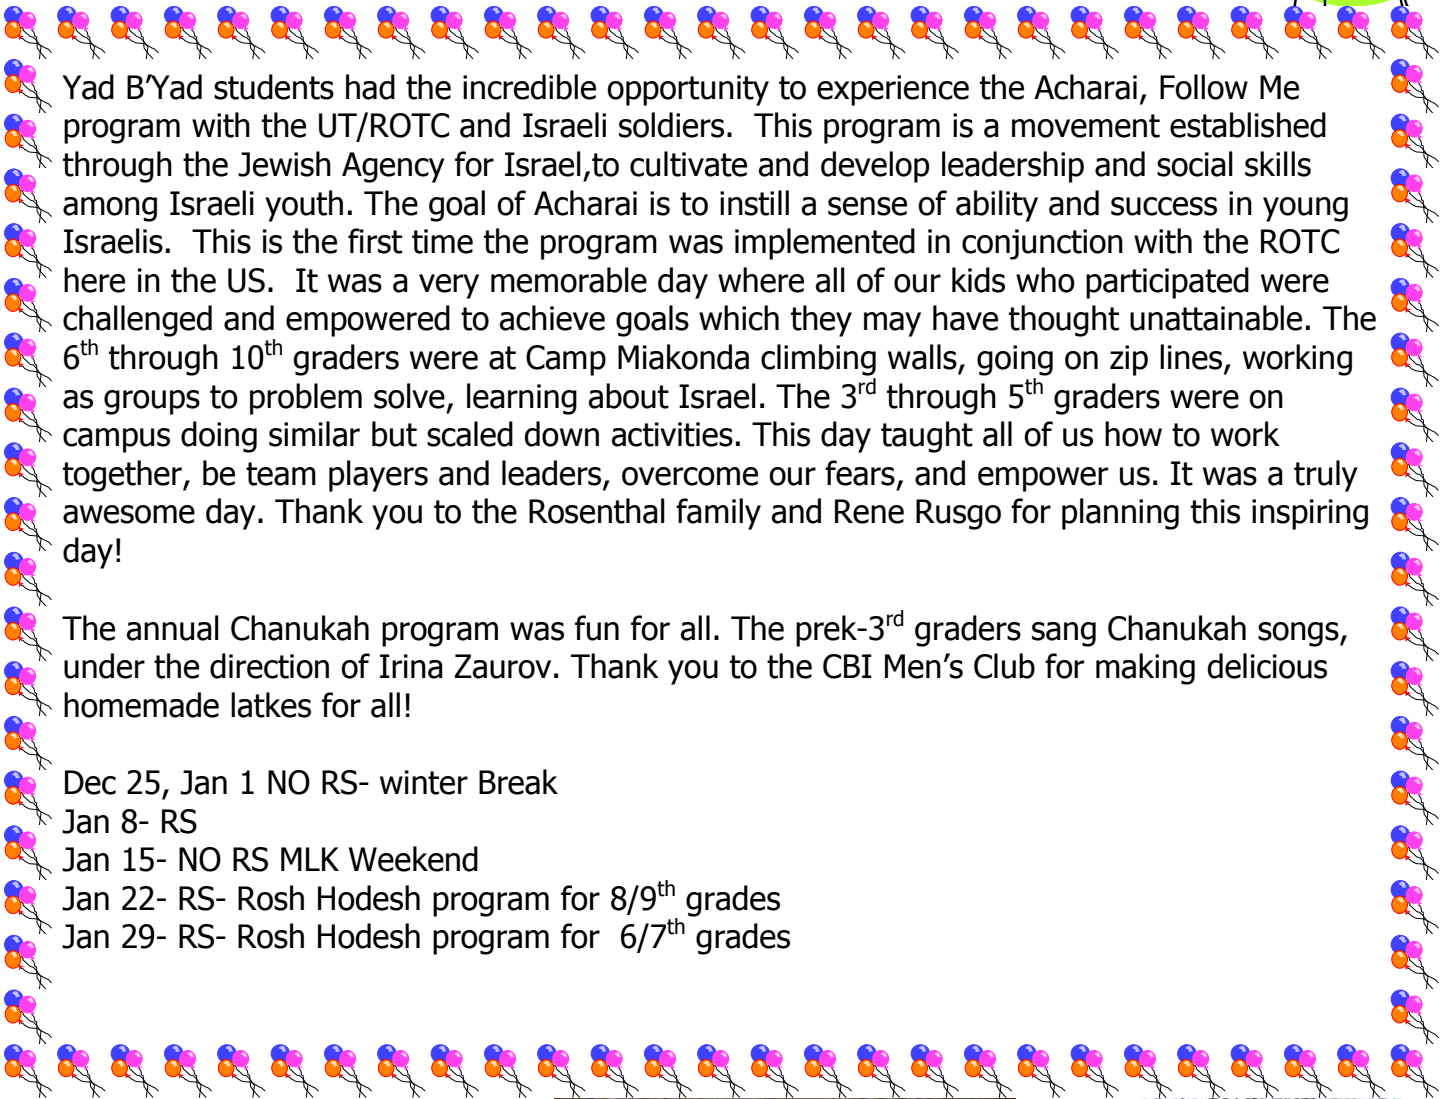

Cantor's official installation April 20 - 22 Watch for details as the committee puts together a wonderful weekend of activities including beautiful music, dinners, out of town guests, and the showing of the powerful documentary movie 100 Voices which features my brother Cantor Joel and myself amongst several other cantors whose life stories are highlighted.

As you can see every month the calendar is full of worthwhile programs with something for everyone to enjoy and participate in. Do avail yourselves of these frequent opportunities for Judaic fulfillment which will undoubtedly enhance your year 2012. Jan and our children Mayron, Ari, Hayley and Jackie join me in wishing you all a healthy and wonderful new secular year.

Yad B'Yad students had the incredible opportunity to experience the Acharai, Follow Me program with the UT/ROTC and Israeli soldiers. This program is a movement established through the Jewish Agency for Israel, to cultivate and develop leadership and social skills among Israeli youth. The goal of Acharai is to instill a sense of ability and success in young Israelis. This is the first time the program was implemented in conjunction with the ROTC here in the US. It was a very memorable day where all of our kids who participated were challenged and empowered to achieve goals which they may have thought unattainable. The 6th through 10th graders were at Camp Miakonda climbing walls, going on zip lines, working as groups to problem solve, learning about Israel. The 3rd through 5th graders were on campus doing similar but scaled down activities. This day taught all of us how to work together, be team players and leaders, overcome our fears, and empower us. It was a truly awesome day. Thank you to the Rosenthal family and Rene Rusgo for planning this inspiring day!

The annual Chanukah program was fun for all. The prek-3rd graders sang Chanukah songs, under the direction of Irina Zaurov. Thank you to the CBI Men's Club for making delicious homemade latkes for all!

What do you get when you combine Kugel, Klezmer and Karaoke?

An amazing evening of food, fun and entertainment for all ages.

So do you think your kugel is the best? If so this evening is for you. All you need to do is sign up to have your kugel be judged in the competition. All the kugel MUST be prepared in the shul's kitchen and all the ingredients MUST be either dairy or parve. Please sign up to cook January 8, 15 or 22nd from 10:00am-noon in B'nai's dairy kitchen. Bubby Fagie will be checking to make sure all ingredients are Certified Kosher when you arrive to cook. Bring enough ingredients to make two 9x13 inch pans. One will be for eating while the other one will be for judging. We will freeze all the kugel in the kitchen until the event. We will supply the aluminum pans, eggs, sugar, milk and oil. You will need to bring the rest of your kosher ingredients.

Entertainment will be provided by Neil Alexander and the Klezmer Fusion Band from Ann Arbor, MI. This Klez band entertains with all types of Jewish music. Neil also teaches Israeli dancing so be ready for a very interactive night, and don't forget the karaoke!!

A light dinner will be served by Jeff Sherman to accompany all the wonderful kugel.

Where: Congregation B'nai Israel
6525 Sylvania Ave.
When: January 28, 2012
from 6:30-9:30pm
Cost: $15 per person,
