The Possibilities of '23

This article is based on a drash I delivered on Shabbat December 10th Parshat Vayishlach, in response to multiple requests for copies.

Do you believe the cliché 'a leopard never changes its spots?' We all tend to make new year's resolutions, that often fade as soon as January 2nd. Is it human nature to be unable to change? I believe the stories of our forefather Jacob as well as Hanukkah which coincide in our Torah reading and calendar cycle, prove the above cliché false. In addition, Jacob garners so much more attention in the Torah than both his father, Isaac and grandfather, Abraham. This begs the question, is it mere coincidence, or might there be a message therein?

I believe that no other Biblical character truly reflects the vicissitudes of Jewish history and destiny than Jacob. The same is true of the story of Hanukkah. Jacob reaches his zenith in Parshat Vayishlach with his name twice being changed to Israel (Genesis 32:29; 35:10). This, I believe is the culmination of a massive metamorphosis of Jacob from איש תם יושב אוהלים "ish tam yoshev ohalim - a simple, withdrawn homebody book-worm (Genesis 25:27) to בי שרית עם אל-הים ועם אנשים ותוכל "ki sarita im Elohim v'im anashim vatuchal — you wrestled with G-d and with humanity and won."

Jacob's dramatic transformation is both physical and spiritual, as is the story of Hanukkah. First he has to overcome his parents' dysfunctional favoritism which sets the twin brothers up for rivalry, hinted in Genesis 25:22, 26 ויתרוצצו הבנים בקרבה – "vayit-rots'tsu habanim b'kirba – the boys grappled within her", and וידו אוחזת בעקב עשו הייע'yado ochezet ba'akev Esav – his (Jacob's) hand was grabbing Esau's heel". The literal meaning 'heel' implies trampled and subservient, and holding on for 'dear life.' The second literal meaning of Jacob is 'cheater,' as stated by Esau in Genesis 27:36

יתקב יעקב ויעקבני זה פעמים את בכורתי לקח והנה עתה לקח ברכתי - "hachi kara shemo Yaakov, vaya'akveini zeh pa'amayim, et bechorati lakach, v'hinay ata lakach bir-chati – so that's why they called his name Jacob, he cheated me twice – first he took my birthright and now he also took my blessing." Esau then says that as soon as the days of mourning his father's death draw near, he will kill his brother (Gen. 27:41).

As Jacob flees his brother's wrath, running from home for the first time into an unknown future and life's journey, he will have to grow up quickly and mature. This process begins with Jacob's famous dream of God's angels י עולים ויורדים בו "olim v'yordim bo — ascending and descending" a ladder to heaven. What is wrong with this sequence? If they are God's angels, shouldn't they first descend from heaven, then ascend? The answer is that the angels emanated from Jacob, not from God, as a kind of 'wake up call' in his realization that God will be there with him on this dangerous journey. As he awakes from his dream he declares אכן יש ה' במקום הזה ואנוכי לא ידעתי "achen yesh Hashem bamakom hazeh v'anochi lo yadati — behold God is in this place and I did not realize!" So begins Jacob's spiritual transformation.

Jacob's physical transformation begins when he first lays eyes on Rachel and it was 'love at first sight (Gen. 29:10). Arriving to Charan he stopped at a water well which was covered by a huge boulder that a group of shepherds were unable to budge. As Jacob beheld Rachel, overcome with strength and inspiration he single handedly rolled the boulder off the well and gave water to Rachel's flocks. What happened to that simple, withdrawn home-bodied bookworm lad?

The drama thickens as he is about to meet his brother after twenty years. Fearful that he and his family could be killed, he sent scouts to reconnoiter Esau's arrival, who reported Esau was accompanied by an army of four-hundred. Jacob prays to God which marks a critical milestone in his spiritual maturation. He says

קטנתי מכל החסדים ומכל האמת אשר עשים את עבדך

- "katonti mikol hachasadim umikol ha'emet asher asita et avdecha - I am humbled by all the kindness and truth You have shown me..." Jacob credits God as the source of his blessings since he fled home, spending twenty transformational years with Laban, his father-in-law.

Jacob sends his household off to safety, and the Torah states ויותר יעקב לבדו – "vayivater Yaakov /'vado - Jacob remained alone" (Gen. 32:25). In this moment of deep self-reflection, as he contemplates his family's fate, Jacob has a strange encounter with an unnamed adversary. This marks a watershed moment in Jacob's metamorphosis as well as that of our People. I believe Jacob's life is a microcosm of Jewish history. We are, after all, the People of Israel. Here Jacob finally sheds all vestige of subservience to Esau, proving he is worthy of the name change, and thereby fulfilling God's promise to his mother Rebecca

Hate Marches On

We, the Jewish people, are not victims. What we have endured and overcome can never happen again. We are a light unto the world. But like the current flu season, sickness around us arises again. Why? The flu is a virus that's never cured. A virus that takes many lives when it peaks in epidemic form. But we have a vaccine and a way to lessen its impact.

Of late, many have heard about the rise of antisemitism in many forms. Recent comments from musician Kanye West and basketball player Kyrie Irving have been reported widely. They haven't stepped back from their hateful comments. For those that follow these issues on digital and social media, you've most likely noted the public feedback. Somewhat shockingly, there's been a lot of communal support for Kanye and Kyrie. They're beloved and anti-Jewish attitudes are prevalent and tolerated. Why the disconnect in this supposed era of enlightenment and wokeness?

This disease has continued to grow and spread over the past few decades. It comes from the left across college campuses in the form of anti-Zionist rhetoric. The same lies long associated with the white supremacist movement of the far right. If the political spectrum is more like a circle than a line, here is where they connect. What has most alarmingly changed? Mainstream tolerance. In an era of intolerance to all forms of prejudice and abuse, antisemitism is the outlier. Some would argue it relates to Israel and the forces that wish to see its demise. Of course, it's just another branch off the tree of lewish hatred.

The ADL and FBI have well documented the statistical rise in antisemitic acts. It is worldwide. In Ohio, there's been a 61% rise in antisemitic incidents since 2018. Most recently, the Hillel at my alma mater, the University of Cincinnati, was vandalized. College student governments across the country have pushed pro-BDS (Boycott, Divest and Sanction of Israel) resolutions. In many cases, it has passed. Michigan, Ohio State, Harvard, Cal Berkeley etc. The list is long and getting longer. Although the passed BDS resolutions have had little real effect, it is suggestive of a growing belief amongst the college-age generation. Needless to say, that has not improved college life for Jewish students. Now it's become so concerning that the prevalence of anti-Zionism/antisemitism on college campuses must be considered by Jewish families before choosing a college to attend.

Outward hostility towards Israel and the Jewish people ("It's all about the benjamins baby") go hand in hand in our federal government. Some U.S. congresspeople have been openly hostile in their criticism of the Jewish state and unabashedly tying it to American Jews. Legitimate critique of any government policy is not the issue at all. It's the lies and antisemitic tropes perpetuated as part of that criticism that is the concern. I could list the politicians' names here, but it isn't necessary. They're well documented from both sides of the aisle.

So, what can be done? Should we just continue the same course of action primarily based on education of those offenders and the public at large? Are there other options?

My thought is to consider an additional way. Bigoted thinking seems to generate the most media coverage. Not hearing much countering with rational thought affects the problem in that bigoted beliefs become the primary voice of the community. We cannot allow hateful, fanatical thinking to drive the narrative in any community. Direct engagement is warranted. Sitting at the table with community leaders and having some difficult discussions. Drilling down to the real problems, finding commonalities, and making it well known publicly that there is respect between us, and we are working together on issues that affect both of our communities.

A Birthday Wish

Carole Lash has been a member of Congregation B'nai Israel since 1959. She moved from Toledo to Charlotte, North Carolina years ago, but despite the distance, has maintained her membership.

On November 28th, Carole celebrated her 90th birthday, and her special wish was to reconnect with her Toledo roots and visit our synagogue.

Her birthday wish came true when she attended CBI Shabbat morning services with her daughter Barbara on November 26, 2022. Carole felt the warmth and love from our congregation, and enjoyed the company of Rhoda Miller at the Kiddush lunch.

Mazal Tov

- Selma Master on the engagement of her grandson, Jordan Richman to Sydney Goldberg in Toronto, Canada. Proud parents are Michelle Master-Richman & Aaron Richman.
- Susan & Steve Kaufman on the birth of their grandson,
 Brady Ezra . Proud parents are Emily & Eli Kaufman.

Letters from Anne and Martin:

A Dramatic Presentation to Commemorate International Holocaust Remembrance Day and Martin Luther King Day

Thursday, January 19, 2023, 6:30 pm
The Center Theatre in the Center for Performing Arts at the University of Toledo,
1910 W. Rocket Dr., Toledo Ohio

The traveling production of Letters from Anne and Martin counterpoints the experiences of two legendary figures: Martin Luther King Jr. and Anne Frank. Through the inspirational words of her hopes and plans for a peaceful and unified world, Anne Frank's The Diary of a Young Girl serves as a reminder of the atrocities experienced during the Holocaust because of bigotry. Written in response to his arrest during a peaceful demonstration, the defense of his strategy of nonviolent resistance to racism in Martin Luther King's Letter from Birmingham Jail, is one of the most important written documents of the civil rights era. To this day, Anne's and Martin's words still resonate as a testament to how one voice can carry the voices of millions that have been silenced.

The program is free and open to the public.

This event is co-sponsored by the Ruth Fagerman Markowicz Holocaust Research Center

CBI'S TOT SHABBAT PROGRAM

FEBRUARY ADULT ED PROGRAM SAVE THE DATE:

The Early Universe & What the First Results from the James Webb Space Telescope Tell Us About It with speaker Steve Federman, Ph.D.

Sunday, February 12, 2023 10:30 AM - 12:00 PM at CBI

The universe was born in the Big Bang roughly 13.7 billion years ago. The galaxies, stars and planets that we see today began to form in the first billion years. The James Webb telescope allows us to see into this early universe. Steve will describe the theory and observations that led us to this picture, how the Webb telescope is bringing us new insights, and how all of this compares to the creation story in Genesis.

Yentl (40th Anniv.) Sunday, January 22, 2023

Rebbe Mendel is a single father who teaches the Talmud, a sacred text of Judaism, to the boys of his small Polish town. Behind closed doors, he also instructs his daughter, Yentl, despite the fact that girls are forbidden to study religious scripture. When Yentl's father dies, she still has a strong desire to learn about her faith -- so she disguises herself as a male, enrolls in a religious school, and unexpectedly finds love along the way.

Rock Camp Sunday, January 29, 2023

For 25 years, Rock and Roll Fantasy Camp has been making dreams come true for people from all walks of life. Founded by David Fishof, an Orthodox Jew and son of a Cantor, Rock 'N' Roll Fantasy Camp is held annually in Las Vegas, offering four days of intensive music lessons with rock icons like Roger Daltrey, Alice Cooper, and Nancy Wilson. The film follows four of the campers who attend the camp as they are mentored by celebrity musicians, culminating in a final onstage performance. Featuring a who's who of rock stars with lewish roots, such as Gene Simmons and Sammy Hagar, this exuberant, fastpaced film manages to capture genuinely moving moments as both campers and their famous counselors bond over their shared love of music.

The Band's Visit Sunday, February 5, 2023

On an ordinary day, the Alexandria Ceremonial Police Orchestra arrives in Israel from Egypt for a cultural event, only find there is no delegation to meet them, nor any arrangements to get to their destination of Petah Tiqva. When they find their own ride, they arrive instead at the remote town of Beit Hatikva. Stuck there until the next morning's bus, the band, led by the repressed Tawfiq Zacharaya, gets help from the worldly lunch owner, Dina, who offers to put them up for the night. As the band settles in as best it can, each of the members attempts to get along with the natives in their own way. What follows is a special night of quiet happenings and confessions as the band makes its own impact on the town and the town on them.

Notes from our Principal

I hope everyone is refreshed after Winter Break! We had a wonderful pre-Hanukkah celebration during Religious School before our break. All of our students enjoyed latkes, sufganiyot, and everyone went home with gelt, dreidels, candles and their own Chanukiah.

Four students from CBI attended the USY convention at Camp Wise last month. They had the incredible opportunity to be with 85 other Jewish kids from Cleveland, Cincinnati, Dayton, Detroit, Pittsburgh, Lexington and Columbus. We hope that all of our students take advantage of this opportunity to form lifelong friendships in the near future. They had a memorable Shabbat with all of their new friends.

We are looking forward to another visit from Bnaya and Yoav from the Shin Shin program through the Jewish Agency for Israel. They are two incredible young Israeli adults who are living in Cleveland for the year. Bnaya and Yoav were here to do joint engaging programming with our friends from Shomer Emunim in October and we can't wait to see them again.

ירב יעקב צעיר - "Vrav yaavod tsa'ir - the older shall serve the younger" (Gen. 25:23), and his father Isaac's blessing - 'hevay g'vir l'achecha - you will be master over your brothers" (Gen. 27:29). These two promises will never be rescinded, a major Jewish belief, a possible source of anti-Semitism.

The Torah states ויאבק איש עמו עד עלות השחר – "vayey-avek ish imo ad alot ha-shachar – a 'man' fights with him till dawn" (Gen. 32:25). Who is this 'man?' The Torah calls him 'ish,' literally 'a man.' The prophets refer to him as an 'angel.' (Hosea 12:5). Rashi, quoting Midrash interprets him as Sama'el, Esau's guardian angel, a force of evil. It could also refer to God, since God is called 'ish' in the Song of the Sea (Exodus 15:3), meaning Jacob is actually wrestling with God. Or, Jacob could even be wrestling internally with himself! Whatever the case, this episode foreshadows a successful outcome for Jacob of the impending encounter with Esau that he so fears.

After an all-night struggle, Jacob, injured in his thigh, eventually overcomes this adversary (Gen. 32:26), who begs him שלחנו – "shal'cheini – let me go!" Jacob replies, "not until you bless me." The defeated loser changes Jacob's name to Israel, marking Jacob's total transformation from a former שרית... הוכל – "a simpleton" to שרית... ותוכל – "a victorious fighter!"

When the brothers finally meet, they exchange gifts, and their reactions to the gifts are noteworthy: Esau says לי רב "yesh li rav – I have much". To which Jacob responds

- "chanani Elokim v'chi yesh li kol –

God has been kind to me and so I have everything I need" (Gen. 33:9, 11). Rashi says Esau spoke בלשון גאוה – "bil'shon ga'ava – boastingly." Here is another sign of Jacob's maturation.

Finally, when the brothers part with all ending well, the Torah states, שלם עיר שכם – "vayavo Yaakov shalem ir sh'chem – Jacob arrived 'whole' in Shechem" (Gen. 33:18). How could he have arrived 'whole' when we know he was injured. He could have died at the hands of his brother, he was deceived and cheated by his father-in-law, and endured a traumatic period in his life. Yet he remains 'whole!' He did not let his disability impede him, he was content, or, as Rashi brilliantly puts it, שלם בתורתו "shalem b'torato – his faith was intact!" Despite everything!

And that's the story of Hanukkah - the few and the weak who overcame the mighty, restoring faith, the Temple and Torah. Similarly, a mere three years after the Shoah, in 1948, in response to the prophet Ezekiel who asked התחיינה העצמות האלה

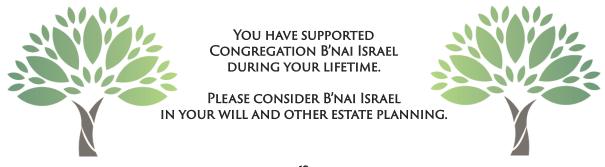

- "will these bones live?" (Ezekiel 37:3), our People rose from the ashes of Auschwitz to overcome multiple Arab armies and establish modern Israel, in the spirit of our forefather Jacob, the victorious wrestler, and the Maccabees.

As the Prophet Obadiah said in the haftorah of Vayishlach 1:10 ""עולם – "v'nichrat l'olam – they (our enemies) will be vanquished forever!"

So, in 2023, will the leopard change its spots? It's in our hands! ישראל חיד – AM YISRAEL CHAI!

CBI Guidelines for In-Person Attendance

ALL congregants are welcomed back to in-person services regardless of vaccine status.

Mask-wearing at in-person CBI services and programs for fully vaccinated and boostered attendees is OPTIONAL.

Unvaccinated attendees are STRONGLY ENCOURAGED to wear a mask while in the building.

COVID-related attendance policies will continue to remain fluid and be adjusted as determined by the CBI Board and COVID environmental factors.

We realize that COVID will be a long-term issue so we feel that we should no longer exclude any of our fellow congregants.

The CBI board will adjust masking, distancing and other policies as needed to best protect everyone.

Thank you for your understanding in this challenging time.

How to access CBI Zoom Programs & Services

- Check your email for the Zoom link and password for CBI Zoom services.
- Click on the link in the body of the email.
- If you have never used Zoom, you will be prompted to follow steps to download it on your computer.
- After that is successful, click on the link provided in the email, type in the provided password and you will be connected to the Zoom service.

A link and passcode will be emailed to congregants.

How to access CBI Live Stream Services

On your Computer, Tablet or Cell Phone:

- Go to the CBI website, cbitoledo.org.
- At the top of the home page click on the "Live Stream" tab.
- When the page opens, you will be connected to the CBI live stream service.

On your Television:

You can also access the live stream services through your television if you have a "smart" TV, Roku or streaming stick which gives you access to YouTube.

- Click on the YouTube icon on your TV.
- When YouTube opens, search for "Congregation B'nai Israel
- Sylvania, Ohio".
- Be sure to click on the listing that has the photo with Jewish star (see photo above).
- We recommend that you "subscribe" to the channel so you can easily locate the live stream for future services.
- We also highly recommend connecting to the live stream services on your TV as it is the most immersive and closest experience, short of being in the synagogue.

Every House Needs a Balcony by Rina Frank

Braiding together past and present, Every House Needs a Balcony tells the story of a young Jewish girl—a child of Romanian immigrants—who lives with her family in the poverty-stricken heart of 1950s Haifa, Israel. Eight-year-old Rina, her older sister, and their parents inhabit a cramped apartment with a narrow balcony that becomes an intimate shared stage on which the joys and dramas of the building's daily life are played out.

It is also a vantage point from which Rina witnesses the emergence of a strange new country, born from the ashes of World War II. Later, after years of living abroad with her wealthy Spanish husband in Barcelona, Rina, longing for the simple life she has missed, returns to the Haifa of her boisterous youth, a move that soothes her soul but ultimately endangers her marriage.

Beautifully told, rich with questions of identity, love, and survival, Every House Needs a Balcony is an unforgettable social and historical portrait of a neighborhood and a nation. Steeped in the colors and smells, laughter and tears, of Rina Frank's own childhood memories, it is a heartbreaking tale about the deepest meanings of home.

Single Jewish Male Seeking Soul Mate by Letty Cottin Pogrebin

Zach Levy grows up in the Bronx of the 1950s. His childhood is marred by a silent, preoccupied, and distant mother. She is a shell of a survivor who lost her first young son in the Holocaust. His outgoing father, who fought with the partisans, is Zach's role model as he tries to make amends and excuses for his inattentive mother. He schools Zach in standing up for himself and the downtrodden, and surrounds him with his close circle of survivor friends from the schvitz who have found new and industrious lives in America. Although they were esteemed doctors in Poland, Rivka Levy now gives piano lessons and Nathan Levy works as a hatter. Zach excels in school and is the rabbi's star pupil at Hebrew school.

Zach makes solemn promises to Rivka on her deathbed. Chief among them is that he must marry a Jewish girl, his beshert, and ensure Jewish continuity. Zach marries the Jewish girl and has a child, but his conventional life will soon fall apart. He maneuvers his way through many relationships until he meets Cleo Scott, a black radio host with a strong Christian background. As their relationship develops, Zach must figure out who he is and what choices he must make while he struggles to keep his reverence for Jewish tradition alive. Zach's constant questioning and dilemmas lead him to friends, coworkers, and his boyhood rabbi for advice, insight, and comfort as he makes weighty decisions.

Have you visited the CBI Library Lounge?

We hope you will come in, sit, relax, and peruse some of our newest literary acquisitions during the hours that the synagogue is open. You are welcome to borrow any of these books, as long as you sign them out in our provided card box. For security purposes, please contact the office (419.517.8400) before you arrive.
