Thankfulness Each Day

Have you noticed that lately the weather has been fluctuating more than usual, or is it just my imagination? Those who were born in the area or grew up here may beg to differ and tell me it's always like that. Yet today, as I write this article (March 13th) it is a balmy, Spring-like gorgeous 70 degrees outside, and so was yesterday. I need to finish this article and take a walk outside to get some Vitamin D. But in a few days snow is predicted, a drop of some 30 degrees to more typical late winter weather in our area.

These extreme fluctuations in weather patterns seem to reflect life in general, for us personally, but particularly as Jews. Passing between the contrasting holidays of Purim and Pesach, we are cognizant of life's constant vicissitudes. The Jews of the Persian Empire of old were prosperous, when suddenly along came Haman, filled with a maniacal hatred of our People, whose threat of annihilation was only averted through the brave efforts of Mordechai and Esther.

A millennium prior to the Purim story, all was well with the Jews of the Egyptian Empire because of Joseph. Then, suddenly along came a new Pharaoh "who did not know Joseph" (Exodus 1:8) and the Jews found themselves cruelly enslaved, with the threat of annihilation through the drowning of Jewish newborn males.

In contemporary Israel, despite internal conflict over judicial reform, Israel overall was prosperous and immigration was soaring. Then, suddenly, along came what is now widely known as "October 7th 2023." Life in Israel and in Jewish communities like ours all around the world, has changed drastically.

While there are frequent lulls of peace and prosperity in Israeli and Jewish life, our ancient opening daily morning prayer is a reminder that the above-described events are nothing new. The morning service starts out with a series of berachot/blessings that were compiled thousands of years ago. These berachot, while acknowledging God as the source of our blessings, are also an expression of hope and yearning. These blessings include:

she'asani ben (bat) chorin – for making me free

matir asurim – for freeing the captives

zokef kefufim – for uplifting the downtrodden

hanoten laya'ef koach – thank You God for giving strength to the weary

A friend of mine, soon after he turned 60 a few years ago, began to experience for the first time some major medical issues. He said to me that when you turn 60 it's all downhill. For me, personally, my own medical issues began suddenly when I recently turned 70, rather than 60. For each individual, our life experience is different. But all of us either experiences setbacks ourselves at some point in our lifetime, or certainly know someone close to us who does.

The message in all this is that even prior to reciting the daily morning berachot, the first words out of our mouths when we wake up, are supposed to be:

"Modeh ani lefanecha...I am grateful to You, living and enduring Sovereign, Who has restored my soul to me in compassion..."

In other words, when we wake up in the morning, first we thank God for another day, and acknowledge the source of the blessings we enjoy in our lives. For at any moment, this can change. And, even then, we must thank God for every blessing in our lives. And I can assure you, if you really look, there are many!

From the joy of our recent Purim celebration to the anticipated observance of our Pesach holiday, may our holidays be healthy and happy ones, surrounded by those we love.

Chag Pesach kasher v'sameach!

Yoda, Rambam and the Origin of Hate

A long time ago, in a galaxy far, far way (actually it was 1980 Hollywood) the Jedi master Yoda intoned: "Fear leads to anger. Anger leads to hate. Hate leads to suffering." This line has always resonated with me. People fear what they don't understand, and in time they come to hate what they fear. This idea is certainly relevant today, but does it have any place in Judaism? Scripture isn't much help. The two Hebrew words for fear, Pachad and Yir'ah, appear nearly fifty times each, nearly always in reference to fear of the Lord and in a few cases fear of some external threat. I found none that referred to others' fear of Jews. Then my amateur investigation took a surprise detour to twelfth-century Muslim Andalusia (southern Spain).

We are all familiar with Moses ben Maymün (Maimonides or Rambam). In his Guide for the Perplexed Maymün anticipates Yoda: "All the great evils which men cause to each other ... originate in ignorance, which is the absence of wisdom... If men possessed wisdom...they would not cause any injury to themselves or others." Rambam was born into a prominent family in Cordoba, Andalusia in 1135 AD. Under the Almoravid dynasty Jews were permitted to live, trade and worship freely. As the largest and wealthiest city in 12th century Europe, Cordoba was a vibrant center for philosophy, science and religious study. All that changed with the takeover by the more 'conservative' Almahadi Caliphate. Christians and Jews were expelled in 1147. The teenage Rambam fled to Granada with his family eventually to wind up in Egypt.

Few of us are familiar with Rambam's Muslim counterpart, Averroes, who stated, "Ignorance leads to fear, fear leads to hatred, and hatred leads to violence. This is the equation." Averroes and Maimonides are paired as the two of the greatest medieval philosophers. The parallels between their lives and their thinking are striking. Abu'l Walid Muhammad ibn Rushd was born into a prominent Cordoba family in 1126 AD. Like Rambam, Averroes (the Latinization of ibn Rushd) was a brilliant scholar of philosophy religion and science. Like Rambam, he was exiled for his beliefs and later returned to favor as the personal physician to the Sultan in Marrakech, where he died in 1198 AD. Both Maimonides and Averroes concluded that where revelation contradicts observation "truth cannot contradict truth" and revelation must be interpreted as an allegory or metaphor. That is not to say they agreed on everything. For example, they part ways on the role of women. Rambam is explicit in considering women mentally inferior and in need of protection in the home. In contrast, Averroes was far ahead of his time in criticizing society for a treatment of women that "turned them into cabbages" with no opportunity for personal or social achievement.

So, what of the fear question? Obviously, I'm thinking about modern antisemitism. If Rambam and Averros are correct, hatred of Jews can be combated by knowledge of Jews. For the 'rational antisemite' who might listen to what we have to say this would be the right approach and we certainly should pursue it. However, in this world of misinformation, disinformation and deliberate ignorance, most antisemitism is irrational. To borrow from the late Jonathan Sachs (Ki Teitse 5777): "The European Enlightenment, with its worship of science and reason, was expected to end all such hatred. Instead it gave rise to a new version of it, racial antisemitism. In the nineteenth century Jews were hated because they were rich and because they were poor; because they were capitalists and because they were communists; because they were exclusive and kept to themselves and because they infiltrated everywhere; because they were believers in an ancient, superstitious faith and because they were rootless cosmopolitans who believed nothing... With irrational hate it is impossible to reason. It has no cause, no logic. Therefore, it may never go away. Irrational hate is as durable and persistent as irrational love. All one can do is to remember and not forget, to be constantly vigilant, and to fight it whenever and wherever it appears."

Siyyum Bechorim Fast of the First Born

Monday, April 22 at 8:00 AM In-Person & Zoom Join us for minyan and study

Join Congregation B'nai Israel for a Siyyum Bechorim. Those who participate are exempted from fasting.

All are welcome: it is not limited to the first-born.

Because the first-born of the Israelites were saved from the tenth plague, tradition requires that all first-born Jewish males fast from Erev Pesach until the Seder. The fast is called Taanit Bechorim. However, the law states that when any Jew hears the completion of a tractate of Rabbinic Literature, it is cause to celebrate and cancels the fast.

Service of Reaffirmation

Tues., April 23 at 9:30 AM In-Person & Live Stream

Since Pesach is exactly six months from the High Holidays, we are afforded the opportunity to reaffirm our connection to God, to Judaism and to Torah, not just once, but at least twice a year. Pesach, when we became a free nation, is the most appropriate time other than the High Holy Days to reaffirm this connection.

Our special service of Reaffirmation will be on the first day of Pesach Saturday, April 16th along with Shabbat and Pesach Morning Services.

Eruv Tavshilin

There is a tradition to make an Eruv Tavshilin for the Holidays when they fall before Shabbat. Since we do not cook on Yom Toy for the next day of Shabbat and we cannot cook meals on Shabbat, we make an Eruv Tavshilin by setting aside two cooked items on Erev Yom Tov, such as a hard boiled egg, challah, meat or fish, and make the following declaration:

בְּרוּךְ אַתָּה יְ-יָ אֱ-לֹהֵינוּ מֱלֶךְ הָעוֹלֶם אֲשֶׁר קִדְשָׁנוּ בְּמִצְוֹתִיו וְצָוַנוּ עַל מִצְוַת עֵירוּב

Baruch ata Ado-noi Elo-heinu melech ha-olam, Asher kid-shanu bi-mitzvo-tav Vi-tzee-vanu, al mitzvat eiruv.

'We bless You our God, Creator of the Universe, Who has sanctified us with Your commandments, and taught us concerning the observance of the eruv.'

By means of this eruy, may we be permitted to bake, cook, keep dishes warm, light candles, and prepare during the Holiday for Shabbat.

"Shevet Achim Gam Yachad" Share Your In-Person or Virtual Seder

In most years, friends and family gather to celebrate the Passover Holiday, enjoy a festive Seder meal and the retelling of our ancient Exodus. If you would like to welcome a visitor, student or neighbor as an in-person or "virtual" guest, or if you are able to host CBI members at your Seder, please contact Hazzan Lichterman at ilichterman@cbitoledo.org.

"Shir HaShirim" - Song of Songs Saturday, April 27, 2024 9:30 AM In-Person & Live Stream

Join us to hear Hazzan Lichterman explain and chant excerpts from "Shir HaShirim" in English and Hebrew from our beautiful megillah.

"Shir HaShirim" otherwise known as the "Song of Songs" or "Song of Solomon", is a romantic love poem from the Tanakh that is also interpreted as a love song between God and the People of Israel.

Memorialize Your Loved Ones Come to the Yizkor Service

Tuesday, April 30: Services begin at 9:30 AM Yizkor at 10:45 AM In-Person & Live Stream

Yizkor is a brief service held four times a year, during which individuals ask for Gd's blessing and formally recall the memories of their loved ones who are no longer alive. It is appropriate to quietly recite the names - Hebrew names particularly, or in English, of the loved ones we recall. It is recited for immediate family, but also for grandparents, cousins, and dear friends. It is also customary to light a yahrzeit candle the previous evening in memory of your deceased relatives.

Mehirat Hametz: The Selling of Hametz

The ceremony of removing leaven (bedikat Hametz) is to take place Sunday evening, April 21, 2024. Hametz may be eaten until 10:30 AM on Monday, April 22, 2024. The Passover home atmosphere is created each year by the traditional practice of thoroughly cleansing the home, and by the removal of hametz, or leaven, in preparation for Pesach, as well as throughout the Passover days, both at home and away.

The term hametz is applied not only to foods, but also to the dishes and utensils in which the foods are prepared or served during the year. "Any manner of hametz (leavened food or utensils) owned by a Jew during the Passover holiday is forbidden to use."

Since conditions make it impossible to literally fulfill the Biblical command to destroy all leavened products, our sages instituted a practice called Mehirat Hametz, the selling of hametz. We are reminded of the necessity to divest ourselves of ownership of hametz, and make our home ritually ready.

The sale of hametz is conducted between a representative of the synagogue and a non-Jew. After Passover the hametz is repurchased by the Jewish community.

If you would like Cantor Lichterman to sell your hametz, please fill out the form below and return it to the synagogue office no later than Wednesday, April 5th, following morning minyan, or no later than 10:30 AM that day.

Don't Sell All your Hametz!

When cleaning out your cupboard and pantries in preparation for Pesach, consider donating unopened packages of hametz and canned goods to a food pantry such as JFS. Items such as crackers, rice, cookies, lentils, tuna, and peanut butter will be gratefully accepted by these organizations and passed on to those whose cupboards are empty.

Let those who are hungry this Passover season share in your celebration by receiving food that you might otherwise "sell" or dispose of. Please call JFS directly at 419.885.2561 to coordinate drop-off of your food donation.

When to Count the Omer: The counting of the omer begins on the second night of Passover. Jews in the Diaspora generally integrate this counting into the second seder. The omer is counted each evening after sundown. The counting of the omer is generally appended to the end of Ma'ariv (the evening service), as well.

What to Say: One stands when counting the omer, and begins by reciting the following blessing: Barukh ata Adonai Eloheinu Melekh ha'Olam asher kid'shanu b'mitzvotav v'tizivanu al sefirat ha'omer. "Blessed are you, Adonai our God, Sovereign of the Universe, who has sanctified us with your commandments and commanded us to count the omer." After the blessing, one recites the appropriate day of the count. For example: Hayom yom echad la'omer. "Today is the first day of the omer." After the first six days, one also includes the number of weeks that one has counted. For example: Hayom sh'losha asar yom, she'hem shavuah echad v'shisha yamim la'omer." Today is 13 days, which is one week and six days of the omer."

Go to the Students: Our Reflections on Hillel International's Israel Summit

Written by Sabrina Soffer and Jeremy Davis for Hillel International's website, published March 6, 2023

More than 800 college students from across North America gathered in Atlanta for Hillel International's third Israel Summit in late February to learn from foremost experts, widely acclaimed journalists and influencers, and the full delegation of Jewish Agency for Israel Fellows. Following the horrific attacks on October 7th and the ensuing vitriolic antisemitism experienced by many attendees, this conference struck the perfect tone for the moment.

Eylon Levy, a charismatic and superstar spokesperson for the Israeli government, encouraged Generation Z to fulfill our potential to become "Generation Zionist." "Generation Zionist" is proud, courageous, and persistent in supporting Israel along with an expanding array of allies and progressive causes. The greatest defense against antisemitism, Levy proclaimed, is the indomitable Jewish spirit to stand up to bullies and persist. Following Levy's call to action, chants and dancing to "Am Israel Chai" proved empowering and inspiring.

Other speakers and participants offered their approaches to confronting antisemitism on campuses.

Yair Rosenberg, staff writer for The Atlantic, argued for the need to keep a sense of humor in times of hatred. If the Jewish people did not laugh, he said, they could not endure each successive calamity—from the destruction of the second temple to that dark Saturday in October.

Additional speakers included Washington Institute for Near East Policy experts Ghaith al-Omari and Ambassador Dennis Ross, The Times of Israel senior analyst and political correspondent Haviv Rettig Gur, and former Israeli Vice Prime Minister, Foreign Minister and Justice Minister Tzipi Livni. They engaged in fascinating discussions about American-Israeli relations, Middle Eastern geopolitics, and the question of the hour—"the day after."

The most moving part of the event, however, was listening to the remarks of family members of two of the 134 hostages still held by Hamas. Visible everywhere were the many yellow ribbons, dog tags reading "our hearts are trapped in Gaza," and T-shirts with the words "Bring Them Home Now!" The collective sentiment of grief was nevertheless overtaken by the hope that our passionate prayers will be answered so we can feel the joy upon the safe return of our Israeli brethren.

Perhaps the most inspiring figure who joined the Hillel International community was former Soviet dissident and Israeli-Jewish hero Natan Sharansky. He urged the audience to focus on their goals and never allow fear to hinder them. Sharansky detailed his time in isolation as a political prisoner and his experience organizing mass demonstrations for Soviet Jewry and beyond. His story reminded us that Jews are living a repeated history of antisemitism, and that the fight for global Jewry and Israel is intertwined with the future of civilization.

Two of the Jewish world's most prominent heroes have shared this crucial insight: Go to the students. These were the words of Holocaust survivor and Nobel Laureate Elie Wiesel to Sharansky amid his impassioned campaign for the freedom of Soviet Jews. Sharansky has conveyed this message to world leaders in Israel and worldwide ever since.

Jewish college students have proven Sharansky and Wiesel right — that going to the students works — and demonstrate that they will continue to do so, bearing the torch of their moral courage and resolute leadership. This generation, Generation Z, will live up to its ascribed name as "Generation Zionist:" brave and bold, strong and supportive, and forever in solidarity with the Jewish homeland.

Sabrina Soffer is a junior at the George Washington University where she served as the commissioner of GWU's Special Presidential Antisemitism Task Force. Jeremy Davis is a senior at The Ohio State University and Student Board President of OSU Hillel. Jeremy is also the son of CBI members Hope & Greg Davis, and grandson of Harriet & Marty Davis.

Toda Rabah to Lannie and Roanne Soldinger Katzman for their donation of a recent book written by a cousin of Roanne's. Laura Soldinger Yotter chronicles the stories told by her father, both in his voice and in hers, of his pre-war life in Krakow, his relationship with Oscar Schindler, life in concentration camps and working with Harry Winston! Over 100 Soldingers have eventually reunited for family reunions and storytelling leading Lannie to assist in editing this book.

Death and Diamonds: The Story of Samuel Soldinger. A Legacy of Oskar Schindler: A Holocaust Survivor's Inspiring Journey of Survival, Faith, Hope, Luck and the American Dream

by Laura Soldinger Yotter & Valerie Lee

"Death & Diamonds" is the inspiring true story of Samuel Soldinger, who survived seven Nazi concentration camps during the Holocaust, worked for Oskar Schindler, and was finally liberated from Mauthausen Death Camp in World War II. Samuel eventually made his way to America and landed a position with diamond magnate, Harry Winston, teaching Native Americans in Arizona the art of diamond cutting.

Jewish Federation

& Foundation

Much of this book is told in Samuel's own words, as he was compelled to share his story with the hope that the horrors of the Holocaust never happen again. Powerful and poignant, ultimately Samuel's story is one of perseverance, courage and dignity. The years of unthinkable brutality did not break the spirit of this sweet, strong and gentle giant, who flourished beyond those harrowing days to brighter new ones.

This book is also dedicated to the more than 6 million Jews and others who endured or perished from the atrocities of the Holocaust. This is to honor them, and spread love, kindness, healing, hope and peace for generations to come. May we never forget.

Have you visited the CBI Library Lounge?

We hope you will come in, sit, relax, and peruse some of our newest literary acquisitions during the hours that the synagogue is open. You are welcome to borrow any of these books, as long as you sign them out in our provided card box. For security purposes, please contact the office (419.517.8400) before you arrive.

Rabbi Elliot B. Gertel was the spiritual leader of Congregation Rodfei Zedek from 1988 through June 2013. Even when on sabbatical until his retirement, Elliot continued to guide our decision making, provide us pastoral care, and officiate at our life cycle events including b'nai mitzvah and other special occasions.

A native of Springfield, Massachu¬setts, Rabbi Gertel attended the Joint Program at Columbia University and the Jewish Theological Seminary from 1972 to 1976, earning a B.A. in philosophy and a B.H.L. in Bible. He received a M.H.L. from the Seminary, where he was ordained in 1981. He did research and editing for Dr. Gershon D. Cohen and for the Rabbinical Assembly. From 1982 to 1988 he served his first pulpit, Congregation Beth El Keser Israel in New Haven, Connecticut. In December 2007 Rabbi Gertel received a Doctor of Divinity degree, honoris causa, from JTS in recognition of his contributions to Jewish life. He was honored by Akiba Schechter Jewish Day School in March 2012.

In Chicago Rabbi Gertel has been chairman of the Joint Television Commission of the Jewish Federation and the Chicago Board of Rabbis, President of the Hyde Park and Kenwood Interfaith Council, and a board member of the Chicago Jewish Historical Society. Rabbi Gertel has been a contributing editor of Conservative Judaism and Jewish Spectator magazines. He has contributed many essays and reviews to popular and scholarly publications in the fields of Jewish thought, Jewish literature and American Jewish history, and, since 1979, has been the media critic for the Jewish Post and Opinion, American Jewry's longest-running national English-language weekly.

His books include:

- Jewish Belief and Practice in Nineteenth Century America: Seminal Essays by Outstanding Pulpit Rabbis of the Era
- What Jews Know About Salvation, which prodded the Library of Congress to list "salvation" as a Jewish concept
- Over the Top Judaism, which discusses the depiction of Judaism in film and on television

On the congregational level, Rabbi Gertel was an innovator whose programs have won Solomon Schechter awards for music and publications and "unique programming." He pioneered in outreach to synagogue alumni and in joint ventures with other communal agencies, such as Jewish Family Services. Rabbi Gertel wrote several intergenerational Festival services; and he developed the concept of "one synagogue with many schools," which became fundamental at Rodfei Zedek.

Notes from our Principal

We are looking forward to many exciting programs coming up in April. The Shinshinim representatives, Maya and Noa, are joining us for the weekend of April 6-7. The young Israelis will be speaking during our morning Shabbat service, followed by a fabulous teen stained glass workshop and dinner Saturday evening at Sekach from 6-9 PM. The event is open to all teens grades 7-12th grade. Please rsvp by April 4 to sherry@jewishtoledo.org. Maya and Noa will also be joining us for joint religious school programming on Sunday, April 7.

Our older students are participating in an important project preparing for the community Yom HaShoah program on May 5. They have interviewed Toledo second generation Holocaust survivors and are preparing a presentation with students from Shomer Emunim. The students will continue to work on this informative project throughout the month of April. We hope to see the community come out on May 5 to support students and Jewish community. Cantor Jen Roher, is also leading a Yom HaShoah Teen choir of all Jewish teens and adults. To participate in the program, please email KBrody@cbitoledo.org for more information.

On April 14th, grades K-6 will have the opportunity to meet with author Ellen Leventhal of Debbie's Song, a book about Debbie Friedman. During the program, students will make instruments to use in a community concert taking place from 11:00-11:30 AM followed by lunch at Shomer Emunim. We are looking forward to this festive morning.

Ann Rosenberg shares her second generation Holocaust story with CBI and Shomer Emunim religious school students.

Adam Davis attends the Ramah College Network Shabbaton: Responding to Antisemitism

Over the weekend of February 9-11, 2024, 19 Ramah campus leaders, including CBI member and UT student, Adam Davis, gathered for a Shabbaton in Orangetown, New York, about responding to antisemitism.

This difficult topic was approached from many directions, including how antisemitism sometimes operates as an invisible oppression, its relationship to anti-Zionism and criticism of Israel, and how a potent way to combat it is by living joyfully as Jews. And live joyfully we did during our Shabbaton.

The group had spirited tefillot, great singing, meaningful opportunities to reflect on personal experiences, and a fun night out at one of the best all-Kosher supermarkets in the country.

After the Shabbaton ended, participants reflected on various aspects of their time together. Some shared new ideas they learned about antisemitism and how to respond to it. Others talked about how special it was to celebrate a mid-semester Shabbat with fellow Ramahniks. A number of participants shared their intentions for having better conversations on campus and at camps, sharing and listening with their peers, university administrators, and campers.

Finally, they wrote about what it meant to them to respond to antisemitism with joyful Jewish living. Adam Davis commented, "I am excited to bring back a much-needed renewed sense of Jewish joy to my college campus. I also look forward to applying my learning at camp through the facilitation of conversations to help my campers understand antisemitism on a deeper level."

How to access CBI Live Stream Services

On your Computer, Tablet or Cell Phone:

- Go to the CBI website, cbitoledo.org.
- At the top of the home page click on the "Live Stream" tab.
- When the page opens, you will be connected to the CBI live stream service.

On your Television:

You can also access the live stream services through your television if you have a "smart" TV, Roku or streaming stick which gives you access to YouTube.

- Click on the YouTube icon on your TV.
- When YouTube opens, search for "Congregation B'nai Israel
- Sylvania, Ohio".
- Be sure to click on the listing that has the photo with Jewish star (see photo above).
- We recommend that you "subscribe" to the channel so you can easily locate the live stream for future services.
- We also highly recommend connecting to the live stream services on your TV as it is the most immersive and closest experience, short of being in the synagogue.

How to access CBI Zoom Programs & Services

- Check your email for the Zoom link and password for CBI Zoom services.
- Click on the link in the body of the email.
- If you have never used Zoom, you will be prompted to follow steps to download it on your computer.
- After that is successful, click on the link provided in the email, type in the provided password and you will be connected to the Zoom service.

A link and passcode will be emailed to congregants.
